HUMAN RHYTHMS

The drum circle has been the focal point of communities throughout man's civilisation. Now Human Rhythms brings this timeless, unifying experience to corporate Australia.

Irrespective of the theme of your next conference, your underlying objective will be to motivate and unite your team. Human Rhythms will enable you to achieve these goals by facilitating interactive, creative team building.

Companies such as AMP, Deloitte, Vodafone and Westpac have experienced the benefits of the drum circle. Human Rhythms now offers your organisation the opportunity to enjoy the drum circle and to benefit from the experience.

Human Rhythms will make your next seminar or conference the most memorable and motivating ever, leaving your staff energised and focused on your company's objectives.

WHY HUMAN RHYTHMS?

The time is 1.30pm, and 200 delegates are about to re-enter the auditorium for the post-lunch session of a 3-day seminar.

Their expressionless faces start showing signs of life as they are met by rhythmic progressions coming out to greet them at the room's entrance. As they enter to a musical reception from the Human Rhythms team, enthusiasm engulfs them, as they realise that their pen and paper has been replaced by drums!

Rhythmic contributions start rolling in from the delegates until everyone in the room is drawn into the cacophony of sounds. At this point, our facilitators guide everyone through a series of simple beats and exercises turning 200 individuals into one orchestrated group.

For the duration of the Human Rhythms presentation, the delegates become performers rather than spectators, and through our guidance, learn the importance of a team and its reliance on the individual.

At the conclusion of the circle, delegates leave the room smiling and joking with one another, feeling elated, uplifted and ready for success.

Human Rhythms offers benefits such as:

- ◆ Group bonding and relationship building
- ◆ Ice breaker
- ◆ Stress release and fun, fun, fun!
- ◆ Increased team spirit
- ◆ Breakdown of pre-existing barriers focus & clarity of thought
- ◆ Emphasises interdependence of colleagues
- ◆ Emphasises equality in the team
- ◆ Takes communication to new levels
- ◆ Emphasises that creativity is non-confrontational and non-competitive
- ◆ Anyone can do it!

CLIENT FEEDBACK

It's hard to imagine that two people can guide three hundred people through a series of simple beats without any verbal communication. The synergy in the room was unbelievable. The feedback from our managers "When can we do it again!" Thanks again for assisting us in demonstrating the power of synergy."

McDonalds

"We used your services to achieve a supporting objective of providing a short opportunity for the workshop participants to engage in a collective and fun activity that was different but engaging. This objective was achieved with great success. Creating music – even for those who immediately declared they were musically challenged – created an extraordinary level of energy and communication. Everyone quickly realised that in unfamiliar situations they could work with their new peers and achieve results they never expected."

Vodafone

"It was such an amazing sight to walk into the conference room and see 260 drums placed around the room, three drummers encouraging us to find a space and follow their beat. Soon the entire Management Team of Big W was rhythmically and harmoniously creating awesome music together. This synergistic activity was the significant event with which to officially close the conference. The experience that we all went through with the drumming was very real and experiential and as a result even a month after the conference, people are still making reference to the experience and how awesome a learning experience it was."

Big W

"My best description of your performance at our sales conference is WOW"! Your performance was filled with creative energy that overflowed into our audience of 800 and then onto their instruments. Thank you...your contribution was spellbinding."

Sensis

Thank you for a wonderful experience with our team, the team feedback was exceptional and showed what a team working together could achieve with leadership and a common purpose.

AMP

"Once again, the activity was extremely well received and it effectively (almost instantly) created unity amongst our team members. Due to the nature of the exercise every member of the team was as important as the next and at the same time dependant on the next. I was once again impressed by the enthusiasm of the staff towards this fresh form of teambuilding. Most importantly, it was great fun and left us feeling energised and re-vitalised."

TMP

"Our sales team in NSW enjoyed the event so much, that we repeated the exercise for the VIC team too."

Heineken

"Great exercise! Just what we need to head overseas focussed and ready to take on the world"

Australian Olympic Swim Team

“Frankie & Kojo did a marvellous job at our conference - whilst being absolutely professional they were extremely entertaining and motivating and our Managers were blown away with the whole concept of the drums. I would highly recommend Human Rhythms to any organisation for their next meeting or conference.”

Bendigo Bank

“High in intrigue and ultimately energy, I was delighted that our group picked up the instruments and participated like there was no tomorrow. Really helped to embed our 'Show of Strength' theme.”
